INTRODUCTION

First issued in 1982 to replace the 1980-81 combined Winchester-Western brand. The Olin Corporation had just completed the sale of the arms business to the U.S. Repeating Arms Company. They retained the ammunition business. Olin redesigned the theme of the ammunition packaging, which featured the old "Horse & Rider" logo which was used to promote Winchester branded products for over 100 years. The box bottom was changed to track with the various corporate name changes over the years.

WARNING: USE only in firearms in good condition and chambered for this cartridge. If doubt exists, check with the firearm manufacturer. Before loading, make sure there is no obstruction in the barrel. If firearm fails to fire, avoid direct exposure to the breech and muzzle while carefully unloading. Never fire blanks at a person or animal. DO NOT USE to propel projectiles. Firing black powder blanks causes residue to accumulate in the barrel. Clean thoroughly after each use. USE ear protection to prevent hearing damage from exposure to gunfire. USE shooting glasses to prevent eye injury from flying particles.

LEAD WARNING: Discharging firearms in poorly ventilated areas, cleaning firearms, or handling ammunition may result in exposure to lead, a substance known to cause birth defects, reproductive harm, and other serious physical injury. Have adequate ventilation at all times. Wash hands thoroughly after exposure.
