ITALY

INTRODUCTION

Modern Italy has only existed since 1870, prior to that it was a loose grouping of independent states. It has a population of approx. 60 million people. It has a rich history of producing .22s dating back over 100 years. Two World Wars have reduced the amount of early specimens available for cataloging.

LEON SEAUX & Co. General offices located Milano. Founded in 1884, this company produced 6 m/m Floberts and .22s until about 1976, at which time they were liquidated. Their catalogs listed at least two plants for producing ammunition and explosives.

GIOLIO FIOCCHI. General offices located in Lecco. Founded in 1876, this manufacturer has the longest history of producing .22s of any company in Italy. They have become one of the world leaders in ammunition development. They are still in production as of 2013.

F. MACHI. This is a private label seller which had their .22s produced for them by F.M. of Argentina. Their location is not known at this time. The boxes state that this Company was established in 1884.

S.P.A. MARTIGNONI. Offices in Genoa. Not much is known about this company. They seem to have produced .22s post World War II. It is assumed that they no longer produce .22s.

WINCHESTER ITALIA s.p.a. Offices located in Anagni. They are not part of the Winchester of the U.S.A. operations. It is assumed that they never produced .22s in Italy but labeled .22s produced in the U.S.A. for sales in Italy. Dates of operation are not known.

La cartouche du cal. 22, étant donnée ses intéressantes caractéristiques, va s'imposer largement parmi les tireurs.

La S.p.A. GIULIO FIOCCHI - après plusieurs années de recherches minutieuses et d'essais très rigoureux - est à même d'offrir aux amateurs une série complète de cartouches 22 capables de satisfaire toutes les exigences des chasseurs et des tireurs avec carabines et pistolets à répétition ou automatiques, par les types:

F. Machi, the Brand that NEVER Was!! by Washington Chiesa With Photography by Daniel Villamil

Many years ago, during the 60's, there was a curious and, with the perspective of time, quite humorous situation in Uruguay. In our small country, a new brand of 22 Long Rifle ammo was introduced, produced by an Italian factory. Those cartridges were quite inexpensive, but they were surrounded by mystery. I was much younger than now, but I remember that to obtain them, the father of a friend had to contact a person that worked at a wholesaler and then buy a brick of 500 22LR. The quality of these cartridges was awful as there were many misfires, but the price was very inexpensive!!!!

The cartridges we are mentioning were F. Machi brand and the boxes were printed in the Italian language stating that the company was "FOUNDED IN 1884", "HIGH VELOCITY", "NON EROSIVE", "SMOKELESS POWDER", "MADE IN ITALY", etc.

Now, with the information we could gather from people older than us, we can tell a quite exact history of this affair that can drive the collector that obtains a box of this brand nuts.

The thing is that some "smart" businessman smuggled 22LR cartridges from Argentina made by Fabricaciones Militares headstamped FM and then "created" a company whose initials matched the letters on the cartridges!!!!.

We attach some pictures of the scarce boxes so our fellow collectors would not need to go to his or her therapist because he or she cannot find the origin of these boxes.

That's all folks !!!!

ITALY

F. MACHI Misc. Issues

The story behind this box is interesting. It actually was not made in Italy, even though it states on the box "Made in Italy". As legend goes it there was no actual F. Machi company and the box was made in Argentina to be smuggled into Uruguay where it is illegal to produce , sell, or own ammunition.

LR-1 .22 LONG RIFLE. Green and yellow box with red and white printing. One-piece box with end flaps. "FM-1" h/s on a copper case. Lead bullet. This box and its loading was produced by Direccion General De Faricaciones Militares of Argentina probably during the 1950s
